The Evers Saga.

GLOOM

The Forest's Ever

Age 600ish

Guilty Pleasure Long baths with a pirate book

Life Motto seek peace, but be ready to go to war

Hobbies/Interests Reading, organising, hunting

Favourite place to be His office. It is dark and private and it is one of the only places he can let his mind relax

Optimist/Pessimist Pessimist

Character

The inspiration for Gloom was his name. Originally I wanted him to be negative and brooding and a bit of a meanie.

As I wrote him he emerged into a more efficient, no nonsense and productive guy.

He feels a lot of responsibility for his realm, Toleran, and hates when he feels like he has failed them.

Being the youngest sibling he feels like he has to prove himself to his siblings and to himself. Because of that, he takes failure hard and hates when he cant see the answer clearly.

Luckily during his reign for the last 500 or so years, it has been a relatively peaceful time and Toleran has thrived and the people there are happy with his rule.

That is until strange symbols started showing up and scaring the locals....

AMELIA

The Sacrifice

Age 20

Guilty Pleasure Pastries and baked goods

Life Motto I am not done

Hobbies/Interests Sewing and exploring the forest

Favourite place to be Jagged Thorn Forest

Optimist/Pessimist Pessimist

Character

I really wanted Amelia to be, on the surface meek and mild, but inside have a strength she didn't know she had.

Amelia has had a really tough life and the fact she can't control her powers just adds to her already stressful life.

I wanted her to be loyal and kind even after all she has been through and I think it shows with her willingness to help Toleran.

There are a lot of questions in her life and she begins to grow and take charge of her life in a way she couldn't before.

She has more of her grandmother in her than she thinks she does.

Age 200

Guilty Pleasure Junk food from the human realm

Life Motto No matter where I am, home is in my heart.

Hobbies/Interests Planner girl!

Favourite place to be By her tree

Optimist/Pessimist Optimist

Character

I wanted Lilly to be the kind of girl that is everybody's best friend. I knew Amelia was going to need a friend and I wanted Lilly to be kind and helpful.

I wanted her to be bubbly and positive but also focused and good at what she does.

She has an easy way about her which also balances out Gloom as well. He likes her free attitude and it is something he wishes he had, so he allows her to get away with things others might not.

Being a dryad, she has a very strong connection with her tree and although she would love to sneak into the humans world occasionally, but the thought of leaving behind her tree keeps her where she is.

It was one of the hardest choices she ever made, to leave her tree and move into the aerie.

She is the best friend everybody wants!

Age Over 700

Guilty Pleasure Smoking his pipe while drinking a whisky

Life Motto Listen to your elders. They have been here before.

Favourite place to be At meetings in the war room

Hobbies/Interests Reading strategy books and his old journals

Optimist/Pessimist Optimist

Character

Bilvog is very old and he likes to think he knows everything...which is probably true.

He is dignified and holds himself high, even for a gnome.

His greatest passion in life is to advise and mould the Evers to make their realms be the best they can be. His only downfall is his dislike of humans. He has his reasons and can't understand why everyone else is so tolerant of them.

However, he has learnt to live with them and their ways.

He has worked for all the Evers and secretly has his favourites.

Even though his life is full of purpose and wisdom, he does worry that the Evers don't quite listen and follow his advice as much as they should.
